MONTANA
20% OFF

A MESSAGE FROM GOVERNOR BRIAN SCHWEITZER

MONTANA 20% OFF

With passage of The Big Sky on the Big Screen Act by the 2005 Montana Legislature, film incentives are now available in Montana. Filmmakers can receive a 12% rebate based on hired Montana labor, and 8% rebate on qualified expenditures. Montana has no sales tax, so it becomes even more affordable to film in Montana.

A STAGE OF DRAMATIC PROPORTIONS

From the wheat fields of the Hi-Line to the picturesque streets of Eastern Montana to the lakes of the Flathead Valley and the mountains of the Rocky Mountain Front—Let me say welcome to Montana! I am thrilled you are considering this great state for your next project; you will not be disappointed with all we have to offer.

Just as welcoming as our scenery, are our people. From friendly residents of any of our wonderful towns, to the film and video professionals, the folks here have what it takes to make sure your vision comes to life, and the job gets done right.

I hope you will take full advantage of all Montana has to offer. Please don't hesitate to contact our Film Office staff with any questions or ideas you have and don't forget to stop by and visit when you are here—my office door is always open!

Sincerely,

Brian Schweitzer
Governor of Montana

ECONOMIC INCENTIVES

THE BIG SKY ON THE BIG SCREEN

An incentive for film production in Montana.

Part One
12% Montana Payroll Rebates

Twelve percent refundable tax credit based upon Montana resident labor expenditures by production companies. This credit would be earned on the first $50,000 worth of wages paid per Montana resident. The production company must be certified by the Montana Film Office prior to shooting and must submit all required documentation to the Department of Revenue and the Montana Film Office in order to claim either credit. A Montana income tax return must be filed in order to claim both credits.

Part Two
8% Expenditure Rebates

Eight percent refundable tax credit based on total qualified production company expenditures. These consist of hotel and lodging expenditures, production equipment rental, fuel costs, expendables, lumber/construction materials, vehicle rentals and food expenditures. All purchases and rentals must occur in Montana. The same certification, documentation, and filing requirements are in effect for this credit.

No Sales Tax

There is no sales tax in Montana. However, there is a local options tax in certain areas of the state.

No Accommodations Tax

– if staying longer than 30 days.

Vehicle Licensing Exemptions

Out-of-state commercial vehicles used exclusively in the production of motion pictures, television or commercials are exempt from licensing requirements for 180 consecutive days.

Migratory Equipment Tax Exemption

Out-of-state equipment used exclusively in the production of motion pictures, television or commercials is exempt from property tax for 180 consecutive days.

For more information, contact the Montana Film Office.

GENERAL INFORMATION

Size and Population

Montana is a vast state of mountains, canyons, river valleys, forests, grassy plains, badlands and caverns. Its Big Sky covers a land area of more than 147,000 square miles, making Montana the fourth largest state in the nation. In area, it can accommodate Virginia, Maryland, Delaware, Pennsylvania and New York, and still have room for the District of Columbia. Yet, Montana's population is just 902,195, making it the sixth least-populated state. There are fewer people living in the entire state of Montana than the city of Phoenix. In Montana, there is room to breathe. And nowhere is the air fresher.

Climate

Generally, Montana's weather is milder than many visitors might expect. After hearing about record low temperatures from some of our more notorious recording stations, like West Yellowstone and Cut Bank, some nonresidents think of Montana as an icebox. Unlike many areas of the nation, however, where winter settles in for keeps, Montana's cold spells are frequently interrupted by chinook winds and mild periods.

The beauty of Montana's weather system is that whether it is hot or cold, Montana is dry and, therefore, neither oppressively hot nor oppressively cold. Average annual rainfall is 15 inches, varying from 9.69 to more than 100 inches. Average daytime temperatures vary from 28 degrees in January to 84.5 degrees in July.

TAX LAWS & REGULATIONS

Film Permits

The Montana Film Office does not require film permits; however, the state park system, the Department of State Lands, and the Department of Transportation do require a permit or prior approval. Various federal agencies such as the National Park Service, the National Forest Service and the Bureau of Land Management require permits. In all cases, the Montana Film Office can act as your liaison with the appropriate agencies.

Sales Tax

Montana does not have a general sales tax. Some resort communities levy a local options tax not to exceed 4%.

Accommodations Tax

Bonafide production companies staying longer than 30 days at the same hotel/motel are exempt from the 7% accommodations tax. This "bed tax" provides the sole funding for the Montana Film Office and for tourism promotion efforts in Montana.

Insurance Requirements

The standard insurance requirement for shooting in Montana is $1 million comprehensive general liability insurance in the form of an original certificate, covering the entire period of the shoot, naming the State of Montana and its employees as additional insured. Additional coverage may be required for hazardous work such as highway stunts. This certificate must be filed with the Film Office before shooting begins.

Child Labor Laws

Montana does not have specific child labor laws covering children employed as actors, actresses or performers in motion pictures or theatrical, radio or television productions. The state does, however, restrict certain types of hazardous employment for children. Employers must comply with federal child labor laws.

TRANSPORTATION PERMITS

Fuel Permits

All diesel powered vehicles over 26,000 pounds GVW have two licensing options for operating in Montana. Both are readily available and are either inexpensive or free.

1. Short Term - Temporary Fuel Permit
   Driver must purchase permit at first open weigh station after crossing border. Good for 72 hours.

2. IFTA - International Fuel Tax Assessment Permit
   Driver must display valid IFTA permit from home state at open weigh stations after crossing border. This will allow free passage into Montana and no other fuel permit is required.

Fuel Used Off The Road

Producers may receive a refund of taxes paid on fuel used in generators and in unlicensed vehicles such as tractors and other equipment not designed for highway transport. Documentation must be presented when claiming fuel tax refunds and claims should be made within 36 months of purchase. Claim forms are available by contacting the Department of Transportation, Motor Fuels Information line at the phone number below.

HIGHWAY FILMING PERMITS

State Highways

The Montana Department of Transportation allows filming, with permission, on its state highways, and in some cases, the interstate system. Before any filming begins on or next to the highway, the appropriate district administrator must be contacted in advance (listed below map).

Intermittent traffic control is permitted. In most instances, a written traffic control plan will be required. A licensed and bonded company is required for traffic control, for the safety of the film crew as well as the public. Alternatively, in some instances it may be possible to use highway patrolmen for traffic control, depending on circumstances. Some situations may also require a special events permit. The district administrator will make these determinations based on location and related issues.

Fees

There is no fee for filming on a state highway.

Liability insurance is required in the amount of at least $1 million (basic, no stunts).

For more information contact the Montana Film Office or:

Information Officer

BUREAU OF LAND MANAGMENT

Policy

The Bureau of Land Management encourages properly conducted filming where appropriate, considering its potential economic and social benefits to the community and to the public as a whole.

Permits

A permit is required for commercial filming on public lands. Still photography for commercial purposes may require a permit.

A permit may take 30 days or more to process. This waiting period may be waived if minimal impact will occur (as determined by the BLM). Contact the appropriate BLM Field Office as soon as possible to discuss the process. In all cases, at least three working days are necessary once all of the information is gathered.

Motion Picture

1 to 10 people	$150/location/day
11 to 30 people	$250/location/day
31 to 60 people	$500/location/day
Over 60 people	$600/location/day

STILL

1 to 3 people	$ 50/location/day
4 to 10 people	$100/location/day
11 to 30 people	$150/location/day
31 to 49 people	$250/location/day
50 to 100 people	$300/location/day
101+ people	$300 (or as determined by appraisal)

Filing and monitoring fees are required if total user fees exceed $250 for both motion pictures and still photography.

A performance bond and liability insurance may be required.

NATIONAL FORESTS

Background

The U.S. Forest Service is responsible for managing nine National Forests covering almost 17 million acres in Montana. The agency is charged with protection of the national forest system (NFS) land and its resources, while providing for a variety of commercial and non-commercial, public and private uses of these lands.

The National Forests offer a wide variety of landscapes, scenery and features from craggy mountains to sagebrush rangeland, and alpine lakes to valley streams. Rustic cabins and mountaintop fire lookouts also dot the landscape. These natural landscapes, rugged yet beautiful features and rustic manmade structures are often sought and highly prized for inclusion in feature films, documentaries and commercial advertisements.

Permits

The Forest Service generally requires a special-use permit be obtained prior to conducting commercial filming or photography on National Forest lands. There may be exceptions for very small, non-impactive projects.

Contact the responsible Forest Service office a minimum of four weeks or more in advance of the proposed filming dates with proposed locations so the necessary environmental analyses and permit processing can be completed. Large-scale projects may require substantially more time for evaluation.

COMMERCIAL FILMING

1 to 10 crew members	$150 per day
11 to 30 crew members	$200 per day
31 to 60 crew members	$500 per day
Over 60 crew members	$600 per day

Still

1 to 10 crew members	$ 50 per day
11 to 30 crew members	$150 per day
Over 30 crew members	$250 per day

A performance bond may be required, and the Forest Service may require a full-time agency representative be on-site during major productions or operations in sensitive areas. A film or photography permit holder may be required to cover such administrative costs.

NATIONAL PARKS

Policy

The National Park Service permits and encourages commercial filming to the fullest extent possible consistent with the protection of resources and the enjoyment of the visitors. All commercial filming requires a permit and is subject to location fees and cost recovery*. Filming activities must be conducted in strict compliance with applicable regulations and conditions.

Permits

Filming permits are required for any filming intended for public viewing or commercial advertising (motion picture, video or still). A minimum of ten working days is normally required to process and review a proposed filming activity. Yellowstone National Park requires a minimum of two weeks to process requests; longer for large productions.

Initial contact should provide as much specific information as possible about the nature of the project, dates, times, crew size, vehicle requirements and special effects. Permit language, and potential impacts vary from park to park.

Fees

Motion Pictures/Videos

1 to 2 crew members, camera and tripod only	*$0
1 to 10 crew members	$150/day
11 to 30 crew members	$250/day
31 to 49 crew members	$500/day
Over 50 crew members	$750/day

Commercial Still Photography

1 to 10 crew members	$ 50/day
11 to 30 crew members	$150/day
Over 30 crew members	$250/day

*Commercial videographers, cinematographers or sound recording crews of up to two people with only minimal equipment working in areas open to the public are required to obtain a commercial filming permit and are subject to appropriate permit terms and conditions and cost recovery charges, but are not subject to location fees.

National monuments and national recreation areas

National monuments and national recreation area fees may differ. Each should be contacted individually to obtain guidelines.

STATE FORESTS, LANDS & WATERWAYS

The Department of Natural Resources and Conservation, Trust Land Management Division, is responsible for over five million acres of state trust lands covering a wide variety of land types including seven state forests and navigable waterways throughout the state. The majority of revenue generated from the leasing and licensing of these properties goes into the School Trust Fund, which helps to educate Montana's children both today and for generations to come.

Permits and Fees

A Land Use license, fee and bond may be required for filming on state lands.

STATE PARKS

Policy

Montana State Parks allows and encourages commercial filming when and where possible. However, it also requires that primary consideration be given to potential resource damage and to anticipated disruption of normal public use.

Permits

A permit is required for any filming or photography intended for public viewing or commercial advertising (includes motion picture, video and still).

A minimum of ten working days advance notice is required to process requests and to determine feasibility.

Initial contact should include the nature of the project, shooting dates and times, the type of equipment and the number of vehicles.

For best results notify the appropriate region manager (phone numbers are listed on this page) or the Film Office as soon as you think you may want to shoot in the area even if you do not have complete information.

Fees

The restricted use permit fee for still photography and filming must be paid to the department in full by the date specified in the terms of the permit. The department may adjust the fees for still photography and filming upward or downward to accommodate the nature of the activity and to compensate for department staffing needs pertaining to the activity.

Restricted use permit fees for still photography and filming

1 person crew	$ 25/day or $50/year
2-5 person crew	$ 50/day
6-20 person crew	$100/day
21-35 person crew	$200/day
36-50 person crew	$300/day
51+ person crew	$400/day

A performance bond and liability insurance will be required. The amounts for each will be set by the department on a case-by-case basis.

INDIAN LANDS

Montana's Indian reservations are rich strongholds of Native American heritage. With seven reservations representing eleven tribes, nine percent of the Montana land base belongs to the reservations. Not all of this land is still owned by Indians, but all is governed by tribal or federal law. Reservations are important, not only because Native Americans have strong spiritual ties to the land, but because reservations have become Indians' last retreat and the last chance to preserve their culture. Now, the people of Montana's reservations are working to build strong economic bases so that their culture will survive and flourish for future generations of Indian people.

Indian lands have been used in many productions including feature films, commercials, documentaries and stills. Permit procedures vary according to the individual reservation. Contact the Film Office or the specific tribal office for filming guidelines and permit information.

WESTERN TOWNS & SETS

You'll see it in homesteads on the plains and cabins in the hills. Standing sets, western towns and ghost towns remain in tribute to a way of life gone by. The personality of the wild frontier still can be found in functioning communities, turn-of-the-century structures, withering townsites and our old Territorial Prison.

DAMS

The thunder and roar that amazed the Lewis and Clark Expedition in 1805 upon discovering the original five great falls of the Missouri can still be experienced throughout the state. While magnificent structures have been built to harness energy and reserve water, many falls still rush freely.

MOUNTAIN RANGES

Montana takes its name from the Spanish word for mountains, and virtually every type of mountain can be found under the Big Sky. Grassy mounds ease up from the prairie, while flat-topped buttes command attention on the plains. Massive pine-covered ranges provide passage to boundless woods, and jagged peaks serve as the rugged sentinels of time.

Mountains	Elevation	Location (by Area)	Description
Absaroka Range	11,206 ft.	• S. of Livingston • S. of Big Timber • S.E. of Bozeman • N. of Yellowstone National Park	High spires, ridges and peaks. Heavily forested to treeline. Eastern boundary is formed by the Boulder River. Western boundary is the Yellowstone River running through the Paradise Valley.
Anaconda-Pintler Range	10,793 ft.	• S.W. of Anaconda • N. of Wisdom	The Anaconda-Pintler Range lies between Anaconda to the north and the Big Hole Valley to the South. Nearly 40 miles long, it extends west to the Bitterroot Valley. Many wilderness lakes and peaks from 9,000 to over 10,000 ft. are located on the range.
Beartooth Range	12,799 ft.	• S. of Red Lodge • N. of Cooke City • S.W. of Billings	Scenic alpine vistas. Expansive, stark, treeless tundra plateaus. Jagged peaks, lakes, creeks and waterfalls. Includes scenic Beartooth Pass.
Big Belt Mountains	9,472 ft.	• N. & N.E. of Helena	Precipitous limestone cliffs, intricate rock formations. Grassy meadows, pine forests. The Missouri River intersects the mountains.
Bitterroot Range	11,393 ft.	• W. of Hamilton • S.W. of Missoula	Jagged pinnacles and dramatic rocky peaks. Deep, precipitous canyons. Lush timber. Bordered on the east by the Bitterroot River.
Bridger Range	9,666 ft.	• N. of Bozeman • N.E. of Livingston	Mountain crest running north to south. Forested with lakes. Abrupt, steep rock peaks above the timberline.
Cabinet Mountains	8,738 ft.	• S. of Libby	Craggy mountain peaks with lush, thickly forested slopes below the timberline. Includes Bull River and Kootenai River.
Crazy Mountains	11,214 ft.	• N.E. of Livingston • N.W. of Big Timber	Rise abruptly from the plains. Sculptured peaks and serrated ridges. Awesome backdrops with 23 peaks above 10,000 feet.
Elkhorn Mountains	9,414 ft.	• S.E. of Helena • N.W. of Boulder • W. of Townsend	The Elkhorn Mountains southeast of Helena had a large amount of mining activity in the 1800s and early 1900's. The historic mining town of Elkhorn is situated at the southern edge of the range. The highest peak is Crow Peak. A military firing range is on the eastern edge of the mountains.
Gallatin Range	10,992 ft.	• S. of Bozeman • S.W. of Livingston	Includes Gallatin Canyon and Gallatin River. Waterfalls, lakes and creeks. Forested with jagged, rocky peaks.
Glacier National Park	10,466 ft.	• N.E. of Kalispell • N.E. of Whitefish • W. of Browning	Massive peaks lead to forested lower slopes. Broken cliffs and walls sculpted by glaciers. Many lakes and streams. Includes Logan Pass/Going-to-the-Sun Road.
Gravelly Range	10,000+ ft.	• S. of Virginia City • S.W. of Ennis • S.E. of Alder	From the floor of the Madison Valley, the Gravelly Range seems a less rugged and gentle range of mountains approximately 40 miles in length. A well-maintained road follows the ridgeline, winding in and out of flower-covered meadows and forest groves, emulating a Sound of Music look. Black Butte looms up at the south end of the range.

LOCATIONS

MOUNTAIN RANGES

Mountains	Elevation	Location (by Area)	Description
Little Belt Mountains	8,801 ft.	• S.E. of Great Falls • E. of Helena	Low ridge system with both timbered and talus domes. Contains lush forests and high grassy meadows.
Madison Range	11,316 ft.	• E. of Ennis • S.W. of Bozeman • N. of West Yellowstone	Precipitous mountain peaks. Bordered to the west and east by the Madison and Gallatin rivers. Yellowstone National Park lies to the south. The area has many lakes, including Quake and Hebgen.
Mission Range	9,820 ft.	• N. of Missoula • S. of Kalispell & Polson • W. of Seeley Lake	Most peaks above timberline appear very high because of dramatic rise from the valley floor. Beautiful lakes on both east and west sides.
Pioneer Mountains, East and West	11,154 ft.	• S. of Wise River • E. of Wisdom • N.W. of Dillon	The East & West Pioneer Mountains are divided by Wise River and the Pioneer Mountain Scenic Byway. The east range has peaks in excess of 11,000 ft. while peaks in the west range are lower at 8,000 - 9,000 ft. Several lakes and old mining claims are throughout these mountains. Elkhorn Hot Springs is located on the south end of the mountains.
Pryor Mountains	8,786 ft.	• E. of Red Lodge • S. of Billings • W. of Hardin	Flat benches, high deserts, mesas, buttes and deep limestone canyons. Southern portion is the most desert-like in Montana. Partially forested.
Rocky Mountain Front	9,392 ft.	• E. of Great Falls, Augusta, Choteau, Browning & Conrad	Towering limestone walls and deep canyons. Peaks rise abruptly from plains. Grassy meadows and buttes with many rivers and creeks.
Ruby Mountains	9,000+ ft.	• E. of Dillon • S.W. of Alder	A small range of mountains approximately 15 miles long between Virginia City and Dillon. Highest peak is over 9,000 ft. The ownership is primarily Bureau of Land Management.
Swan Range	9,356 ft.	• S. of Bigfork	Rugged mountain peaks stretch in unbroken line for 100 miles. Includes beautiful Holland Lake.
Tobacco Root Mountains	10,600 ft.	• N. of Virginia City • N.W. of Ennis • E. of TwinBridges	A dense concentration of peaks rise over 10,000 ft. Mt. Jefferson at 10,600 ft. is the highest. Has 40,000 acres of roadless area. Numerous alpine lakes and old mining claims throughout. Best access is in the Meadow and Willow Creek drainages and the S. Boulder River.

PRIVATE RAILROADS

If usable tracks, engines and cars are what you seek, look to the dramatic landscape of Montana. Private railroads chug over trestles, through tunnels, across badlands and along mountain ranges. When these trains roll down the track, they take you not just through pristine valleys and tidy little towns, but into the railyards and back doors of gritty urban centers.

PERFORMANCE ROADS

Montana holds some magnificent scenery that can be found by way of our highways and roads. Imagine a crisp blue lake shimmering next to a meandering highway. Roads gently winding through rolling hills that ease up from the plains. Dramatic switchbacks twisting through towering mountains with snow-covered peaks. You don't have to imagine in Montana. Whatever you're looking for, our highways and roads will lead you there. But since Montana is such an enormous state, we couldn't possibly list all our highways. And we also have plenty of gravel roads that can take you to remote areas.

Located just west of Butte, Anaconda grew around the Anaconda Copper Mining Company's smelter. A symbol of the smelter, closed in 1980, still stands today in the 585-ft. smelter smokestack, the tallest free-standing masonry structure in the world. The downtown area features turn-of-the-century buildings, including a large early-day movie house, period street lamps, a courthouse situated at the end of Main Street, and beautiful parks. To the west of Anaconda is the pristine Pintler Wilderness with its snow-capped peaks and high-mountain Georgetown Lake. Also close to Anaconda is Lost Creek State Park, a canyon park with steep limestone cliffs rising over 1,200 ft. from the canyon floor.

Situated in the shadow of the Bridger Mountain Range, Bozeman is the centerpiece of the fertile Gallatin Valley, a large agricultural area. It is also home to Montana State University and its film and television school. Many of Bozeman's neighborhoods and parks still have the feel of a sleepy college town with frat houses and quaint, comfortable homes. The downtown area features a main street with rows of turn-of-the-century buildings. Bozeman is ringed by majestic peaks and steep canyons; it is a starting point for connections to the Gallatin Canyon and Yellowstone National Park.

At the turn of the century, Butte was one of the largest cities west of the Mississippi. Today, Butte's colorful history can be seen in its ethnic neighborhoods, preserved Victorian uptown business district and stately mansions. Located virtually on the Continental Divide, surrounded by mountains, the Mile High City lies on some of the world's richest mineral reserves. The outlying area features numerous ghost towns and abandoned mines.

At the east entrance to Yellowstone National Park, Cooke City is an alpine village with snow much of the year. It is perhaps most famous for the road that connects Cooke City with Red Lodge. Called "the most scenic drive in America" by Charles Kuralt, the Beartooth Pass Highway (US 212) traverses, with dramatic switchbacks, the spectacular Beartooth Range of south-central Montana. The pass is open only in summer months (approx. June-October); however, the town is accessible by the Mammoth Hot Springs entrance at Yellowstone Park (US Highway 89) in the winter. Impressive high mountain peaks and valleys abound.

Home to Montana's state prison, Deer Lodge is one of Montana's oldest towns. Now unused, the Old Territorial Prison with its four-tiered cell block, gothic facade and huge prison yard, remains a favorite location. Deer Lodge also houses one of the largest antique auto museums in the state. Remnants of old mining camps can still be visited a few miles from town. The original Grant-Kohrs Ranch, one of the 19th century's biggest range ranches, still exists as a National Historic Site and a working ranch.

Located in the upper northeastern corner of Montana, the Glasgow area is rolling plains and open farmland. Established in the late 1800s as a railroad town, Glasgow grew in stature when the Fort Peck Dam was built a few miles south in 1933. One of the world's oldest and largest hydraulic earthfill dams, Fort Peck Dam stretches over four miles across the Missouri River. The former Glasgow Air Force Base was a centerpiece for the community. The large 13,500-ft. runway and 67 buildings of the base are in good repair.

Glendive is tucked between the badlands and the Yellowstone River, and is considered the hub city of the rich inland agricultural area of eastern Montana and western North Dakota. Large grain farms and ranches abound. Glendive's main street is one-sided with a massive railroad yard and roundhouse on the other side. Makoshika State Park, one of the most impressive badlands areas in America, borders the southern edge of Glendive. It is not only attractive with its highly unusual rock formations, but is a virtual warehouse of prehistoric fossils, mineral specimens and dinosaur bones.

Montana's third largest city is a marketing center with good air and highway connections. Grand vistas can be found in every direction; Great Falls is surrounded by mountains and buttes on three sides, as well as vast plains to the north. The city, with its midwestern flavor, straddles the Missouri River, which meanders toward a natural falls on the northeastern edge of town.

Hamilton is located in the lush, agriculturally rich Bitterroot Valley of southwestern Montana. The town is the central trade area for hundreds of small farms, ranches and orchards that fill the valley. It is also home to the Daly Mansion built in the late 1800s for Marcus Daly, one of Montana's colorful "Copper Kings." The two-story mansion, situated on gorgeous tree-lined grounds, features 42 rooms and seven fireplaces. The scenic Bitterroot River and impressive peaks of the Bitterroot Range run more than 60 miles along the entire length of the valley.

Located just 45 miles southeast of Billings on I-90, Hardin is situated on the banks of the Bighorn River. The Bighorn Canyon and Dam allow a majestic view of the water below. Due north of Hardin are other great locations on the Yellowstone River. Hardin also sits on the edge of the Crow Indian Reservation. The reservation offers two mountain ranges, the rugged Pryor and Bighorn mountains, with rolling hills and semi-arid plains surrounding the peaks. Nearby lies the Northern Cheyenne Indian Reservation. The Hardin area is rich in history. Each year the Crow celebrate their heritage at the Crow Fair with a pow wow that is the largest in the state. In addition, to the south of Hardin is the Little Bighorn Battlefield, where the Northern Plains Indians defeated Custer and the U.S. Army.

Havre, a rural agricultural city, is situated close to the Canadian border amidst the wide panorama of the north-central plains. Also a railroad town, it offers modern city conveniences in a remote setting, surrounded by unaltered and uncluttered plains. Fort Assinniboine, a late-19th-century army installation, complete with preserved buildings, lies six miles southwest near the Milk River. In the Bears Paw Mountains to the south is Beaver Creek Park. This 10,000-acre park, one of the largest county parks in the United States, features rolling grasslands, wooded groves, rocky cliffs and rushing streams. The Rocky Boy's and Fort Belknap Indian reservations are nearby.

Downtown Helena is situated in a steep gulch with parts of the city perched on surrounding hillsides. This picturesque setting opens up into a wide valley to the north. On the upper east side sits Montana's State Capitol. Helena's glorious past can be seen in its spectacular 19th-century mansions, historic Last Chance Gulch businesses and restored pioneer dwellings. The St. Helena Cathedral, an imposing edifice, overlooks the downtown area. Numerous old mines and settlements exist close by. Just eight miles from the Continental Divide, Helena is surrounded by mountains. The Missouri River flows nearby with several lakes within a short driving distance.

Livingston is at the head of the picturesque Paradise Valley leading to Yellowstone National Park. This 53-mile-long valley follows the majestic Yellowstone River and is surrounded by three breathtaking mountain ranges. Downtown, the historic Northern Pacific depot with its curved colonnade and terra cotta ornament has been restored to its original grandeur. Main Street, with rows of uninterrupted period buildings, railroad workshops and yard works, remains an area rich with history.

Steeped in Western history, Miles City remains a true Old West town. Vast stretches of plains and badlands branch out in all directions. The Yellowstone and Tongue rivers flow unblemished in long sections. Once the horse trading and livestock center of the country, Miles City still has weekly livestock auctions and, once a year, puts on the Bucking Horse Sale for rodeo stock buyers and breeders. The Range Riders Museum features an extensive collection of Western artifacts, including over 400 guns. Classic cars, wagons and restored old farm equipment are in good supply. The town features a complete 1950s-era main street, 1930s era high school and an authentically refurbished early 1900s saloon.

Located in the heart of the Rocky Mountains, Missoula is the center for commerce in western Montana. It is the state's second largest city and home to the University of Montana and its Performing Arts and Radio-Television Center. The Clark Fork River runs through the downtown area which features many classic early-century buildings. Of significance is the Historical Museum at Fort Missoula and its 12 structures. Missoula is a starting point for connections to the Flathead and Bitterroot valleys.

Shelby lies north of Great Falls on the great north-central plains of Montana. This is prime wheat growing country, but large cattle and sheep ranches also predominate. With the discovery of the Kevin-Sunburst oil field in 1922, Shelby became the center of a rich oil producing area. Shelby is historically significant for the Dempsey-Gibbons World Championship prizefight held there on July 4, 1923.

Sidney hugs the North Dakota border where the prairie stretches as far as the eye can see. The confluence of the Yellowstone and Missouri rivers lies nearby in a 75-mile-long irrigated valley. It is a major wheat and sugar beet producing region. Located in the Williston Oil Basin, oil pumping and exploration can be found throughout the area. Sidney's Mondak Heritage Center features area history and includes an extensive street scene of the early 1900s. To the northeast is Old Fort Union, a classic frontier trading post of the 1830s to Civil War era.

Virginia City was born with the discovery of gold in Alder Gulch in 1863. A "boom town" of the post-Civil War era, Virginia City served as the Montana Territorial Capital for ten years, until the gold ran out. Just a mile away lies Nevada City, a western town created from a collection of buildings from other ghost towns. Both towns have been largely restored and preserved as they once stood, living examples of the real Old West. One hundred fifty buildings have been certified authentic by the Montana Historical Society. The majestic Madison River Valley, just west of Virginia City, features some of the world's finest trout streams, as well as a beautiful mountain backdrop.

The town of West Yellowstone is best known as the western entrance to Yellowstone National Park. The natural scenic wonders of the nation's oldest national park include geysers, brilliant hot pools, bubbling mud caldrons, rugged mountain peaks, majestic waterfalls, streams and beautiful lakes. The town sits on a high plateau and receives an extraordinary amount of snow in winter, but summer also offers extraordinary locations with Hebgen and Quake lakes and the picturesque Madison River. Montana's first IMAX Theatre opened in the Grizzly Park.

Whitefish lies directly to the west of Glacier National Park—one of the most scenic, breathtaking areas in America. Whitefish is surrounded on three sides by picturesque mountain peaks that include the Big Mountain ski area just outside of town. Whitefish still retains the warm, friendly charm of its bygone railroading days. The refurbished train depot, along with the Western-style covered walkways, are the focal point of the downtown area. Whitefish Lake, seven miles long, is partially within city limits.

NOTES

MAPS AND TRANSPORTATION

Arriving and traveling in Montana are easier than many people think. Seven cities are served by major airlines, and several more have commuter plane service. There's also a good chance you can get near that perfect outdoor location on a well-paved road. We've included the following charts and maps to help you travel around our state.

MONTANA HIGHWAY MAPS

Contact the Film Office or Montana Tourism at 406-841-2870.
Also available at local Chamber of Commerce and Montana Visitor Centers.

FOREST SERVICE MAPS

II. ALPHABETICAL DIRECTORY (BLUE PAGES)................................ 151-193

INCLUDES FILM CREDITS, SPECIAL SKILLS & EXPERIENCE, ADDRESS, PHONES, EMAIL, WEBSITE.

This list is printed twice yearly: January 1 and June 1. Logon to WWW.MONTANAFILM.COM for new and updated crew listings.

- A "STATEWIDE" listing indicates willingness to work statewide as a local.
- Montana Film Office requires crew members have verifiable experience for categories they list.
- Personal narratives are provided by crew members, but are not verified, nor is any endorsement or quality judgement made by the Film Office.
- Production companies should contact crew members to determine if prior experience will fit current needs, as well as check references.
